

EDITORIAL

I have got the golden opportunity to put 'ANVESHAS' esteemed readers this special edition of law. A good judicial system is a hallmark of greatness of any nation. Indian Constitution not only assures political justice but also social and economic justice. Law is the rule of life. It shows the right path of livelihood. In this special edition the learned authors have presented their views on different aspect and fields of law, which I have categorised in basically three streams they are:- Woman and genders, Political and social impact of law and Medico legal and environmental law.

The authors of this edition have presented their views which will surely be a milestone in the field of law. By this edition I hope the learned readers will be definitely benefited and get knowledge in the field of law and give suggestion for further editions.

I am thankful to Dr Anjani Srivastava, chief-editor of 'ANVESHAS-A Multidisciplinary e-Journal for all Researches', for continuous support and co-operation. I am further thankful to Dr Smriti Srivastava, co-editor of special edition of law. I am very much thankful to the authors of research papers. I am also thankful to Prof. Shrinivas Gupta, Prof. (Dr.) Lily Srivastava, Dr. Dayanand, Dr S. K. Rai, Shri C.M.L. Srivastava for their continuous support, guidance and suggestions to edit this special edition.

I am further thankful to the President, 'ANVESHAS PUBLICATION', Mr. Birendra Kumar to publish this journal.
